

Corinne Delaney recently joined the Yellow Ribbon Network as Director of Development, Marketing and Communications. Corinne comes from a family with a long history of those who proudly served in the Armed Forces so she is thrilled to be a part of this rewarding organization.

Corinne focuses on communications with existing Non-Profit Partners and Heroes, as well as increasing the exposure of the Yellow Ribbon Network to a broader population across the United States as the platform continues to successfully expand under the direction of the Executive Team.

Prior to joining Yellow Ribbon Network, Corinne worked as a Client Service and Business Development professional across a wide range of industries including Financial Services, Legal, Technology and 501c3 Not-Profits. Corinne also has experience in Program Management and is looking to expand her large network to promote the work of YRN as well as develop long-term marketing plans to assist those in need. Corinne received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Fairfield University and a Certification in Business Marketing from CUNY Baruch.
